Michael L. Wilson is an Assurance and Consulting Partner in Tidwell Group's Johns Creek office. He has over ten years of experience in public and real estate accounting, with an emphasis on audit and advisory services for real estate partnerships financed by the Low-Income Housing Tax Credit, including audit requirements prescribed by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). Michael specializes in advising LIHTC partnerships through all aspects of a development life cycle, including final cost certifications, financial forecasts and projections, and exit strategies.

Prior to joining Tidwell Group, Michael served as Chief Financial Officer for a top 50 affordable housing developer in metro Atlanta. He was previously a Manager at a national CPA firm, providing audit, tax compliance, and advisory services to real estate developers and syndicators. Michael prides himself on building lasting client relationships, and he pulls from his extensive experience as both a public accountant and developer to partner with and advise his clients.
